

A Level Provision (Information for Admissions Officers) (2018-19)

Students entering the Sixth Form between one to four qualifications depending on the courses selected, with most selecting the equivalent of three or four Level 3 Programmes of Study in the first year. Additionally Year 12 students choose a Personal Development Activity (PDA) and attend a compulsory speaker's assembly throughout the year. During Year 13 they are expected to follow a curriculum comprising three A levels or equivalent BTEC courses.

A Levels are offered as either modular or linear qualifications. Modular subjects will hold AS Level examinations at the end of Year 12 as well as A Level examinations at the end of Year 13. Linear qualifications will culminate in an A Level examination at the end of Year 13 only. BTEC qualifications are continuously assessed but are essentially linear (requiring a two year commitment to achieve the qualification).
